The Boy and The Mouse

Once there was a boy and a mouse. They were good friends. The mouse was hungry.

The boy made a bobble from some earwax, and said, "Here, eat this!"

"Yuck!" said the mouse.

The boy then gave the mouse a sausage and said, "Eat this instead".

The mouse said,

"Oh, thank you".

They made a fire to cook the sausage.
The boy flicked the bobble of earwax into the fire, and the flames shot up.

"Eek!" said the boy.
"Squeak!" said the mouse.

Then the boy phoned the Fireman. The fireman came and put the water on the fire.

About This Book

The Eaves Family each suggested two words:

Nicholas - 'The' 'Fire'
Tom - 'Bobble' 'Earwax'
Daddy - 'And' 'Mouse'
Mummy - 'Sausage' 'Boy'

We then came up with sentence ideas including all the words that worked together to make a story.

We hope you enjoyed our story.

Of Special Note:

The title was suggested by Tom.
The 'blurb' was Nicholas's idea.
Tom designed the front cover.
Nicholas designed the back cover.
